

INFECTED WOUND MAY KILL VILLA

By Telegram to The Freeman.
El Paso, Tex., April 11.—Death from an infected wound may claim the life of Francisco Villa before the American troops still on the trail of the bandit chief are able to overtake him, according to reports reaching El Paso today from Carranzista sources. These declare that earlier rumors that Villa was wounded had been fully confirmed and that he had been unable to get any medical attention during his rapid flight southward.

It is known that similar reports have reached General Pershing, commander of the American expedition, but he has sent no official confirmation in his messages to the border. The Carranzistas have sources of information that the American troops do not have.

News from the American troops in southern Chihuahua was lacking today; and interest on the border centered in the situation at Columbus, N. M., and in the hunt for General Jose Ynez Salazar, the professional Mexican rebel who disappeared from El Paso two days ago and was last reported as crossing the border north from this city.

Secret service agents for both the American and Carranza governments are trying to get a trace of Salazar and learn his plans.

Reports that the American troops concentrating at Columbus slept on their arms last night while increased guards patrolled the streets and more forces protected the lines of communication south of the town, were connected with the disappearance of Salazar in theories advanced in well informed quarters. Salazar had only a handful of men when he crossed the Rio Grande and disappeared in the hills south of the river, but the sleuths who have been investigating his recent movements declare he had received assurances that at least 500 more were awaiting him a few miles from the border.

Sixteen arrests were made during the night in connection with the Salazar investigation but several of the prisoners were released as soon as they had furnished a satisfactory accounting. Among these taken into custody were General Marcelo Caraveo, formerly an ardent ally of the late Pascual Orozco, and El fugio Baca. Salazar's personal attorney, Baca was freed, but it is understood that he is still under surveillance.

Salazar, Caraveo and Baca are said to have recently switched their allegiance to Felix Diaz and one report says that Diaz has launched Salazar's expedition with his personal funds. An explanation of the recent increase in Carranza forces near the border was found today in a statement that information of Salazar's plans had reached Juarez long before the American secret service men in El Paso had gotten an inkling of it.

SENATOR HARDING A DARK HORSE

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, April 11.—U. S. Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio loomed large today as a potential "dark horse" candidate for the Republican presidential nomination. Harding himself is not an avowed candidate. But politicians were pointing out that he will be in a fine position to stampee the convention whether he desires to or not, having been chosen as its temporary chairman. And he can count on the support of the middle western combination if it shall be demonstrated early that one of its aspirants cannot win. Harding is very influential in Republican circles, has a wonderful platform presence and much personal magnetism. Chosen to sound the "keynote" of the Republican campaign he will have an opportunity to impress his personality on the delegates and many old time politicians in both the senate and the house today were telling their friends to keep watch on him especially if, as expected, the convention goes into a deadlock.

The Roosevelt movement is making little headway in Washington. There is a general feeling among politicians that the effort on the part of the colored friends to show evidence of a "stampede" toward him came prematurely and the Republican leaders insist that a combination that will prevent his being nominated is certain.

The "Old Guard" which has canvassed the outlook, declines to give the colonel more than the hundred delegates at Chicago at the most.

Senator La Follette was back at his desk in the senate today receiving the congratulations of his friends over his close victory in Wisconsin. He declined to discuss politics. Another prospective candidate who also was keeping mum was William Alden Smith of Michigan, who was defeated for "favorite son" by Henry Ford. In this connection the political wiseacres do not regard the result in Michigan as much of a political barometer either of the Ford strength or the position of the middle west on preparedness. They figure that there will be a real test on both when Ford and Senator Cummings hook up in the Nebraska primaries. In Nebraska the Estabrook campaign is now attracting attention and Senators Norris and Hitchcock have both been asked whether certain factors of it, including alleged lavish expenditure, may not be fit subject for inquiry.

Senator Boies Penrose is expected shortly to make an announcement regarding his position and the Roosevelt boom. At the same time his friends claim he will demonstrate that he still is the dominant power in Republican affairs in his state.

So far as the position of Justice Hughes is concerned all efforts to "smoke him out" have utterly failed. A number of persons have tried it in the last few days including some who have been intimately associated with the justice since he practiced law in New York city and before he became interested in politics, but to all he has returned the same courteous reply, that he is not taking any interest in politics. His position in this respect, however, is very satisfactory to the anti-Roosevelt Republicans as they figure that so long as the justice is a possibility he will retain a strength that later will be solidly lined up against the former president.

"HELLO FRISCO THIS IS KINGSTON"

Social Committee of Chamber of Commerce and New York Telephone Company Arrange for Transcontinental Talk—Mail Service Considered.

If the plans of Ralph D. Clearwater, local manager of the New York Telephone Company, and the members of the social committee of the Chamber of Commerce do not miss fire, a transcontinental dinner and talk will be held in this city the latter part of next month when the guests at the banquet table will be able to hear and talk with San Francisco. This was brought up at the regular meeting of the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce held on Monday evening at the city hall. President Leighton presided, with Directors Stelle, Mahar, Bernstein, Klock, Cari, Crane, Eighmey, Gorman, Kingman, Burgevin, Barman, Schlesinger, Bannan, Kearney and Clearwater, and Secretary Canfield present.

Mr. Clearwater, who is also a member of the social committee, was given the privilege of the floor, and explained what it meant for the telephone company to arrange for a transcontinental talk. In the first place it was difficult to get the cost of the company to give it as it cost about $2,500 which expense, however, is borne by the company. All that the company requests is that the organization arrange for the banquet hall and allow the telephone men to work for two days previous to the banquet installing the necessary wires. The plan usually followed was to have the mayor of San Francisco and then if there were any former Kingston people living in the western city, to have them talk. The telephone line was to be held open for exactly one hour and the program would have to go through like clockwork. An illustrated lecture is also given.

After some discussion the entire matter was referred to the social committee with power. It is likely that if arrangements can be completed that the date fixed will be Thursday evening, May 25.

Peace Conference at Lake Mohonk.

President R. E. Leighton was unanimously elected to represent the Chamber of Commerce at the annual peace conference to be held at Lake Mohonk next month.

Memorial Day Plans.

A communication was received from Pratt Post, G. A. R., Spanish War Veterans, the Old Guard and Company M, calling attention to the fact that those organizations were arranging to hold a big parade on Memorial Day to be followed by appropriate services at the city hall. They asked that the Chamber of Commerce send two delegates to the meeting to be held at the armory on Friday, April 28, when final plans for the parade will be made.

President Leighton appointed Secretary Canfield and Director S. E. Eighmey as such committee.

Conference Over Mail Service.

It was announced that Mr. Williams, the chief clerk of the railway mail service, was expected in Kingston today or tomorrow and that he would meet with the executive committee of the Chamber of Commerce regarding the poor mail service. It is expected that other members of the chamber will also meet with them and urge better mail facilities.

To Resume Social Visits.

After some talk the matter of resuming the social visits of the chamber to the various local industries was done in former years, was turned over to the social committee to plan the visits. Among the invitations received so far are those from H. W. Palen's Sons, the Barmann Brewing plant, the Universal Road Machinery Company and the New York Telephone Company.

Not Allowed to Dock.

Secretary Canfield reported that this year the steam yacht Gardner on the route between Rondout and Poughkeepsie, had been unable to secure its usual docking privilege in Poughkeepsie, as the owner of the dock had refused to allow the boat to land. It was brought out that the owner of the Gardner had been paying a rental of $25 a month for the privilege of using the dock in Poughkeepsie in former years.

The matter was referred to the transportation committee and it was also decided to call the attention of the Hudson Valley Chamber of Commerce to the matter.

Hudson Valley to Meet Here.

The Hudson Valley Chamber of Commerce will meet in Kingston shortly and the matter of entertaining the delegates was referred to a committee consisting of the local delegates to the association.

The board then adjourned.

Court of Appeals in Session.

The Court of Appeals, which has been in recess for several weeks, convened Monday afternoon for a seven weeks' term. Twenty-two applications and motions affecting cases on the calendar were heard, after which the orders calendar was taken up and will occupy the time of the court this week. Next week the remaining cases on the old calendar will be argued, and after that the new calendar which was prepared several weeks ago will be taken up and the cases heard in their regular order.

SIX NEW YORK WOMEN GO WEST TO WIN VOTE.

New York, April 11.—"Gentlemen, I am shaking the dust of New York's male oligarchy from my feet. I am going west where the men have recognized the justice of woman's plea for political equality."

Thus expressing her dissatisfaction with the men of New York for voting against the suffrage amendment last fall, Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch bade goodby to a big crowd that gathered at the Pennsylvania station to say farewell to the suffrage crusaders to the "free states."

Mrs. Blatch, addressing the crowd on the front steps of the station, said:

"We are going west to organize a woman's political party in the voting states to make the political parties this year behave on this question of suffrage."

Explaining that she had sworn off her citizenship in New York, Mrs. Blatch said she would stop at Topeka or Lawrence, Kan., and establish a voting residence.

"It requires a six months' residence in Kansas to vote, so I shall not return to New York, even for a visit to my family, until after the fall election," Mrs. Blatch told the crowd.

The crusaders, who went to Washington, where they boarded the suffrage special, are, besides Mrs. Blatch, Mrs. John Rogers, Jr., Miss Helen Todd, Miss Anne Constable, Miss Julia Hurlbut of Morristown, N. J., and Miss Agnes Campbell of Short Hills, N. J.

WINSTON OUT OF THE N. T. A.

As a result of the steam roller methods used at the last Congress of the National Trotting Association, when the rules committee appointed by P. P. Johnston, the retiring president of the association, was ignored, four of the most prominent horsemen of the country who were members of that committee have tendered their resignations as members of the Board of Appeals of the association. They are William Russell Allen, of Pittsfield, Mass., member from the Central District; Horatio N. Bain, of Poughkeepsie, member from the Atlantic District; Robert C. Estill, of Lexington, Ky., and J. O. Winston, of Kingston, member from the Southern District.

Notice of the resignations is given in a statement signed by the four members under the caption, "A Logical Conclusion." In the statement they say they feel that in justice to themselves they cannot remain longer connected with the N. T. A.

Mr. Allen is the owner of the Allen Farms at Pittsfield, Mass., one of the largest breeding establishments in the country. Mr. Bain's prominence as a horseman and breeder and interest in trotting are of course well known here. He is the owner of the Elm Stock Farm at Dover Plains which has developed many blue ribbon winners. Mr. Estill is vice-president of the Kentucky Association, while Mr. Winston, who had the contract for the Ashokan dam, is another prominent breeder with a large stock farm at Saugerties.

In the resignations of these men the N. T. A. loses four of the most representative horsemen of the country, men of the highest integrity, who always stood for the best interests of the sport.

VILLA DEAD AGAIN ACCORDING TO RUMOR

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Queretaro, Mexico, April 10.—(Via Galveston, Tex., April 11.)—Rumors, as yet unconfirmed, reached the Mexican war office here today that Francisco Villa was killed in the last fight with Carranzistas near the town of Crenggilla. Villa's men, according to the rumor, were carrying his body as they continued their flight to the south.

War Minister Obregon at once wired the commander at Chihuahua asking for a confirmation of the report or a denial, but up to the time of sending this despatch, no reply had been received. The rumor, however, created a deep impression here.

The International News Service calls attention to the above despatch as based on a rumor current in Queretaro. It is transmitted, therefore, with due reservation.

NAVIGATION OPEN; BRICK NOW LOWER

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, April 11.—With some grades of North river brick obtainable last week at $3 a thousand, there was a slight lessening of the wholesale market tension that afforded a modicum of relief for the local dealers in commons. The price reduction, however, was not general, and when quoted was accepted as reflecting the demand for money among some of the manufacturers, who have had to bear with an unusually long closed season and now need capital for the period of open navigation and renewed manufacturing.

On the whole the market last week was firm and the demand good, with $3.50 still the top price.

With the Hudson river open, barges are now clearing from Newburgh Bay and Kingston, while last week also, on Friday night the first tow started up river for Albany. Only two cargoes were in the market on Friday morning, twenty-five others loads having been sold since Friday, March 31. Arrivals during the six days elapsed to April 6 totalled twenty-one.

The services are for members of the church and also for people of all denominations and churches of the city.

EXPECT BONDSMEN TO FINISH ROADS

State Authorities After Ruddy & Saunders Firm Against Which Bankruptcy Move Has Been Made—Construction Cost Higher Than Time Bids Were Tendered.

Two great improvements for Dutchess county, the Rock City Barrytown state highway and the Whaley Pond road, came near to being lost recently, according to the Poughkeepsie Star. Both jobs had been let to Ruddy & Saunders, and considerable work was done on the northern one, when suddenly the road making machinery was loaded on cars of the New York Central and shipped away, just as the spring season of work was approaching. One of the partners of Ruddy & Saunders made a statement in Troy to the effect that work would be resumed after some other jobs had been finished in the capital district.

Monday the state highway department served formal notice on the contractors that work must be resumed within 15 days, or in default that the state would compel the bondsmen to finish the two roads. If the bondsmen do not do this, the state will relet the contracts and charge the difference, if any in cost, to the bonding people. One New England surety company is obligated for $70,000. The contracts involve $140,000.

The original bids were based on labor of 16 1/2 cents an hour; now the price is 22 1/2 cents, a difference of 40 per cent. Dynamite is $22 as against $11. Everything else is proportionately high as compared with a year ago, while labor is harder to secure.

But the state engineers are determined to see that the roads are built, no matter what prices prevail. This is taken as an assurance that Dutchess county will not lose the two expected improvements, but will be slightly delayed in their completion.

Bankruptcy proceedings have been begun against the contracting firm named in which Kingston creditors are interested. The concern completed its contract in Ulster county.

RECEPTION TO THE OLD GUARD

This evening Company M will tender a reception and review to the members of the Old Guard at the armory to which the public is invited, especially every young man of the city who is eligible to enlist in the National Guard. The review will be on the parade ground with music of the local company and the soldier boys of today will go through their drill and show the members of the Old Guard present day maneuvers and tactics. After the drill Chaplain Snyder will address the people on "The Effect of Military Training," and Judge William D. Cunningham will speak on "Preparedness" and a musical program will follow. Captain Mosher urges every member who is eligible to the National Guard to attend this evening and if possible enlist in the local company. At the present time Company M is maintaining a high standard of efficiency and only the addition of half a dozen recruits is needed to bring the company up to full strength.

Beside the military training received in the weekly drills there are a number of other advantages which may be derived from an enlistment in the company. The fine armory and club features derived from joining the company should attract a number of the young men of Kingston.

CLAY FOR BRICKMAKING.

Wealth That Lines Shores of the Hudson River.

Magnificent and inspiring as the scenery is along the towering banks of the lordly Hudson it isn't anywhere near as much of a money-maker as the lowly bricks which are made along the shores of that favored stream. In the ten years past some 11,390,110,000 bricks, valued at $60,447,258, have been fashioned out of the clay close to the water's edge. These bricks, if laid flat, would make a sidewalk that would reach around the world. And it is estimated that there is still enough clay left on the banks of the Hudson to make 1,200,000,000 bricks a year for the next fifty years.

This stratum of clay extends along both sides of the Hudson from New York to Cohoes, above Troy, and takes in ten counties, one of them in New Jersey. It is the greatest brickmaking district in all the world. For a century the industry has thrived, and, strangely enough, the method of manufacture has changed hardly any in the lapse of years.

It was in 1817 when the industry began to thrive. James Woods, an Englishman, had learned the trade of brickmaking in his native land and was attracted to Haverstraw, up the west bank of the river for a few miles from New York. The vast quantities of fine brick clay there and the abundance of wood for fuel appealed to him, and he started the first successful brickyard in Rockland county. To Woods is given the credit for discovering that coal dust made a fine ingredient for good bricks. He also invented tempering, mixing and molding machines, and, but little modified, are used even in these times of new appliances for all forms of the industry.

BUNDY CAME BACK SEEKING JUSTICE

Told Recorder Lang He Had Died Once But Had Returned and Would Burn Every Building in Country Until Justice Was Secured—Wanted Pistol Permit.

Harrison Bundy was arraigned this morning before Recorder Lang charged with loitering around the city hall, and was held to await mental examination as his strange remarks led the court and the police to believe that he was unbalanced. Bundy said he lived at Highland, but he had been employed about town for some time. He had his discharge papers from the United States army, which gave the reason for his discharge as mental disorder.

Bundy made his first appearance at the city hall at an early hour when he had a conversation with William Pratt, the city hall engineer. After talking awhile he leaned over and asked Mr. Pratt in a confidential tone of voice if he would like to earn $50. He said that he was a deserter from the army but would surrender to Mr. Pratt in order that he could secure the reward offered for his apprehension.

Later in the morning he wandered into recorder's court and when the docket had been disposed of by the court Bundy approached Recorder Lang and asked him if he would grant him a pistol permit.

His actions appeared normal and the court asked him where he lived and he replied at Highland.

"I won't grant you a permit," said Recorder Lang and he asked Bundy why he did not apply at Highland for a permit.

"Well," said Bundy, "I'll tell you, there are no justices of the peace left in Highland as I have put them all out of business." Bundy then went on to relate how he had died once and gone through Hades, but he had returned seeking justice. He said that the government owed him $105 and unless it was paid to him he would burn every building in the country.

Bundy had only been talking a short time when the court perceived that he was unbalanced and the attention of the police was called to Bundy who was arrested on a technical charge of loitering in the city hall.

He was later arraigned and Recorder Lang adjourned the case for five days and remanded Bundy to the county jail to await examination by the jail physician as to his mental condition.

BUILDING COMMITTEE AWARDED CONTRACTS

The building committee of the common council held an important meeting at the city hall on Tuesday evening at which time bids for repairs to the city hall were opened and contracts awarded to the lowest bidders. The contract for painting the recorder's court room and the meeting room of the board of health was awarded to William McKittrick. The contract for repairs to the city hall tower was awarded to Henry Fisher. The committee also decided to lay a new floor in the lower corridor of the city hall to replace the present wooden flooring and the contract was awarded to C. E. Emerick. The new floor will be similar to the floor in the corridor of the new high school.

B. P. W. INSPECTS THE CITY STREETS

The City Streets to be Repaired This Summer Were Inspected Today by Board of Public Works—Street Flusher at Work.

Today the members of the board of public works made an inspection of the city streets that are to be repaired this summer. There is considerable work to be done on some of the streets before any street oiling is done this summer.

It was expected that the board would also investigate the question of whether the retaining wall on Broadway between Newkirk avenue and Stuyvesant street was unsafe. The question of whether the retaining wall was liable to slide out and damage property on Newkirk avenue below was first brought to the attention of the board at the last meeting by Captain Kelly, who owned property at No. 262 Broadway and also on Newkirk avenue. He claimed the wall was slowly giving way and liable to fall at any time.

The city street flusher was put to work today by Superintendent Van Keuren flushing the paved streets and cleaning them of the winter's accumulation of dirt.

TYPHOID CARRIER FOUND.

Disease Traced to Milkman Who Has Now Retired.

Investigation of a typhoid fever carrier case in Newburgh is the subject of a report made by Sanitary Supervisor Charles W. Berry, M. D., to the State Department of Health. The carrier, the report states, suffered an attack of typhoid fever 18 years ago and recovered. He continued in the milk business, doing the milking and selling his product to retailers. Finally the source of the typhoid epidemics which Newburgh has suffered from time to time were traced back and this man's dairy was figured in all the suspected places. As the carrier has retired from dairy business, his name is withheld.

The typhoid fever statistics for Newburgh are as follows:

1903, 116 cases, 12 deaths; 1910, 65 cases, 13 deaths; 1911, 57 cases, 11 deaths; 1912, 76 cases, 12 deaths; 1913, 23 cases, 7 deaths; 1914, 32 cases, 5 deaths; 1915, 44 cases, 6 deaths. No cases have yet been reported this year.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Detroit, Mich., April 11.—It became known today that all mail from the United States entering Windsor, Ont., Monday was opened in the Windsor post office, read and then resealed with a small sticker, bearing the printed word "Censored."

This is the first time since the European war began that a censorship has been exercised on United States mails going to Canada and no statement could be secured from Canadian authorities as to the reason for the action taken except that this is an important matter and we cannot discuss it.

Bomb plots are thought to have prompted the censorship.

GERMAN QUESTION TO BE DISCUSSED

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, April 11.—Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, will make another effort to settle for all time the points in dispute between the United States and Germany growing out of the submarine activities of the German navy. The ambassador hopes to discuss the situation with Secretary of State Lansing so soon as the latter gets all of the evidence now en route from London and Paris and before it is again made a topic for cabinet discussion. He had expected to do this yesterday but was informed that the data on hand is incomplete and that it will be Thursday at least before all of the collected evidence in the various cases that have been investigated can reach Washington.

Meanwhile the complete text of the German reply to the inquiries by Ambassador Gerard into the Sussex, Englishman, Manchester Engineer, Eagle Point and Berwindale attacks is not expected to get here before tomorrow night or Thursday morning. In each case, it is understood, Germany insists that she cannot be held responsible and in the case of the Sussex, especially, specific denial is made that any German submarine was concerned. In this very connection experts in international law were today pointing out that this government cannot very well question the statements of a friendly nation unless it has absolute evidence gathered from its own sources that that government is mistaken.

"No nation can call another a liar unless she means war," is the way high authority puts the case. Leading members of the senate and house foreign relations committees intimated today that the situation has become much more complicated and they saw little chance for any immediate action. They had expected to arrange a joint session of congress for the president so that he could present the entire case to the legislative body this week but it is now a certainty that this will not be done for some time to come at least. The president believes that there is an accumulation of evidence that submarines again are torpedoing without warning but in the big case which he expected to make the chief issue—that of the Sussex—it probably will have to be ignored entirely.

Many officials are hopeful that Count von Bernstorff and Secretary Lansing would be able to find a way out that would solve the existing perplexing problem but it will be impossible to determine this much before the end of the week, it then. Meanwhile the entire international situation must continue unchanged.

RUNAWAY BOYS CAUGHT.

Turned Over to Police and Will be Sent Back Home.

About midnight Monday Peter Gorman of No. 52 Newkirk avenue called on police to report that two boys who had run away from Catskill that day were at his house. This morning the boys were taken to police headquarters and the Catskill authorities notified. Later the boys were sent back home.

The boys were Arthur Phelan, 17 years old, and James Bradley, 11 years old. Phelan is small for his age. He said this morning that about a month ago his father and brother had left Catskill and had secured good jobs in New Jersey and he had decided to join them. He said that he was one of fourteen children.

Bradley's parents were former residents of this city and Mr. Gorman is an uncle of the Bradley boy. He said he had read in the paper that the Eagle Hotel wanted a bell boy and he had decided to come to Kingston to apply for the job.

Both boys according to their story left about five o'clock Monday afternoon and jumped a freight train, Kingston about 11 o'clock that evening.

Neither one of the boys wanted to be sent back home.

Why Fish Are Near-Sighted.

As a result of a number of experimental studies, scientists have found that the eyes of fish are relatively large in comparison with human eyes; a fish's eye is ordinarily about one-twentieth of the length of its body, while that of a man is from one-sixtieth to one-seventieth of the height. It is believed that this is one reason for their near-sightedness.

Women Warriors.

It is commonly assumed that women lack the fighting instinct and have lacked it from the beginning. Certainly this is not true of the ancient Teutonic woman, the Urvorb, who fought side by side with her bearded male in incessant tribal wars. History tells us that the Roman armies had to defeat the women after they had defeated the men.

Justice at All Hours.

A Paris contemporary discovered that one of the doors of the Palais de Justice is left ajar throughout the night. This door has never been shut since March 4, 1678, when Louis XIII. ordered that it should remain perpetual ly open "so that my subjects may be able to seek justice at all hours, of the day and night." However, an enterprising journalist who presented himself at the door in the small hours of the morning was promptly ejected by a watchman.

And when he quoted the ordinance of 1678 the reply was: "If you don't clear off we'll find a way to close in by the prisoners' door tomorrow morning."

The Milky Way.

The Milky Way is an irregular luminous belt that encircles the celestial sphere and has the general shape of a great circle, inclined at an angle of 60 degrees to the equatorial. Its luminosity is due to the methods of stars or suns competing in a group of which have been revealed to us by means of the telescope. It varies in width from 4 to 20 degrees and at one point of its course splits up into two nearly parallel branches of unequal brightness, which do not reunite for a distance of 100 degrees.

Vain Evaders.

SIGHTING A MACHINE GUN

WILL VILLA'S BANDITS FEEL THE BULLETS FROM U. S. MACHINE GUNS?

The latest developments in the Mexican situation indicate that the American forces in Mexico may soon be on the verge for the feeling Villa.

This picture shows a trooper from the 8th United States Cavalry sighting a machine gun of the type with which some of the cavalry troops now in Mexico are equipped.

The belt running through the breach is kept filled with cartridges as soon as the gun is set for action. In the picture the belt is not loaded.

KINGSTON, N. Y., APRIL 11, 1916.

All of us have compassion for debtors who are actually unable to pay what they owe us, but when they can pay as well as not, yet instead of doing so hand over the money to worthless bums, indignation swells in the most amiable bosom. What is true of such action by individuals is as true of the conduct of a State. It is well known that farmers in Ulster and the other agricultural counties have been unable to collect long overdue bills for animals slaughtered by the State for sanitary reasons. Appropriation bills were introduced in the Legislature and passed, but they were vetoed by Democratic Governors, so that there might be more money to pay holders holding positions which involved no work except receipting for their salaries. It is good news to the farmers thus mistreated that a different policy prevails under the present administration. The Legislature has passed and Governor Whitman has signed a bill which places in the hands of Commissioner Wilson of the Department of Agriculture the sum of $235,000, which is sufficient to settle all the animal claims proved up to March 1 of this year. Square dealing on the part of the State ought to be so uniform as to attract no attention, but after a Tammany administration it becomes worthy of mention in the newspapers.

While the Republican administration in this State is quick to pay just debts and appropriate money for proper purposes, it has practiced stern economy in dealing with unnecessary expenditures. It will be remembered that the Democrats created a Department of Efficiency and Economy which was noted for being neither efficient nor economical. It cost $203,000 during the year it lasted, and the State did not get one dollar of benefit from it. The present administration has set out to accomplish real economy and efficiency by enacting the so-called Sage bill. This measure provides that during six months of the year the clerical force of the two financial committees of the Legislature shall investigate the needs of the various departments and institutions, thus obtaining reliable information for use in preparing the budget. These facts, together with the views of the various departments, are to come before the Governor for review, and he is to recommend cuts or increases. Then the entire budget goes before the Legislature for discussion, item by item, and shall be the order of the day for five full legislative days. In this way it seems certain that the State's money will be expended in a businesslike way. A notable feature of the program is that the entire cost of this operation will be—no not any sum amount as the Democratic expense of $203,000—but only $21,000 a year. It will probably save several millions a year in comparison with the haphazard method which has been employed so long.

Almost the wisdom of Solomon when he was not thinking about the Queen of Sheba would appear necessary to solve the puzzle of whether picture promoters can be prevented from re-photographing and displaying fight films of the Johnson-Willard fight. The fight took place in Cuba, where moving pictures were taken while it was in progress. The Federal law prohibits the importation of such pictures taken outside of this country. A powerful moving picture machine has been set up twelve inches across the Canadian border and the pictures are displayed for reproduction on films which move at the same rate of speed just inside the American boundary and on American soil. This has been taking place at Rosess Point, N. Y. Former United States District Attorney Henry A. Wise of New York believes it is a legitimate evasion of the law, though an obvious subterfuge, just as permissible and legal as it would be for a person to go outside of the United States and make mental notes of a picture which is not permitted in this country, and then come back and paint the picture. United States District Attorney Lucy of Syracuse, however, is of the contrary opinion and has taken proceedings to stop the pictures from being shown. Neither the legal nor the sporting fraternities need to go to literature for uncertainties rivaling "The Lady or the Tiger." In this instance prize-fighting is sufficiently elevating to furnish them.

ACCORD.

Accord, April 10.—The entertainment given by the young people of the M. E. Church last week was well attended. The various parts of the play were well rendered.

Rev. Mr. Heroy has been spending several days on his farm near Ellenville.

Herman Osterhoudt, who is one of our most ardent fishermen, succeeded in landing a very nice sucker last week.

No Sunday school at the Reformed Church Sunday on account of the light attendance.

Charles Anderson sold a team of horses to Diamond & Mittleman last week.

Several teams have got fast in bad spots in the roads in this vicinity and had to be assisted out.

The men of the Reformed Church will have a bee on the grounds Wednesday afternoon in order to do some necessary work. The Ladies Aid will meet in the church at the same time.

A Sunday school institute will be held in the M. E. Church Thursday afternoon and evening, April 13. Sunday school leaders from Ulster and Dutchess counties will be in charge. It is hoped that every Sunday school in town will be represented. A premium will be given to the school which has the most officers and teachers present. Everyone welcome.

We trust that Saturday's snow storm was the last of the season.

Burglaries in Dutchess.

With the Fishkill postoffice broken into, the Dutchess county authorities are again exercised at the visits of burglars. Owners of country homes in that county are taking precautions against visits from marauders.

CITY'S WATER SUPPLY PURE

The fact that Kingston's water supply is exceptionally pure is shown by the daily reports received at the water board office at the city hall from the chemist stationed at the filter house. Now that the snow has disappeared Superintendent Harrison said that every precaution was being taken to avoid contamination in the city water.

An idea of the water supplied the city is gained from the following daily report which is an average report received daily this month. The water on the high pressure before it entered the filter house contained 2,780 bacteria per cubic centimeter, or in about twenty drops of water. After the water had passed through the filter the number of bacteria had been reduced to two. During the day 2,699,250 gallons of water was furnished the city on the high pressure, and the percentage of bacterial removal for the day was 99.93, or almost one hundred percent removal.

On the low pressure equally good results were obtained. The water before it entered the filter house contained 5,199 bacteria to every twenty drops of water and after passing through the filter but one bacteria remained. During the day 2,699,250 gallons was furnished on the low pressure and the bacterial removal was 99.99.

There is probably not another city in New York state that can show greater bacterial removal in the drinking water supplied its residents.

ANNUAL MINSTREL SHOW.

Young Men's Brotherhood Will Give It on May 12.

The third annual minstrel show of the Young Men's Brotherhood of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer will be given at St. Peter's School Hall on Friday evening, May 12. This event is looked forward to with considerable interest each year, and this year's performance promises fair to outshine any which the Brotherhood has thus far given. The solo and chorus work, under the direction of Conductor Ray G. Walter, has already developed into a stage of rare excellence.

L. J. Spangenberg, Jr., will be interlocutor, and the ends will be Ray G. Walter, Fred W. Weber, Fred J. Spangenberg and C. J. Heiselman. The jokes will be original and new, and the antics of the end men rich with good clean comedy. The well known Brotherhood male quartet, LaTour, Scherer, Wieber and Pierson will sing several selections which will be sure to sustain the reputation as one of the best male quartets in this section.

Directly after the minstrel show, an exceptionally clever one-act musical comedy will be attempted. The plot is intensely interesting and provides humorous background for the more serious climax, which is the rendition of the famous "Quartet" from Rigoletto, from Verdi's well known opera, by some of Kingston's best vocalists. This quartet will be composed of Herman LaTour, tenor; Miss Elizabeth Riese, soprano; Mrs. Wallace Boyce (of New York), contralto; and Carl M. Pierson, bass; with Miss Mabel Raichle, accompanist. Mr. Pierson has sung in Rigoletto at the Metropolitan Opera House and under his direction this operatic gem should be sung in true operatic style.

Taken as a whole, the Young Men's Brotherhood will give an evening's entertainment of varied interest, ranging from ragtime music and minstrel comedy to an attempt at artistic accomplishment.

As this performance will be given in Kingston on only one evening, May 12, prospective patrons are invited to purchase tickets at an early date. Tickets may be purchased from Connelly Drug Co., downtown, TenBroeck drug store, uptown, and S. J. Messinger's meat market in the central part of the city.

New Refrigerating Machine.

The Mohican Company's store on Wall street has been arranged for the installation of a Brunswick Ice Machine. This large refrigerating plant will furnish cold air for their butter cooler, meat cooler and refrigeration on their large marble meat counter. The plant is operated by a 7½ horse power motor which generates the air, forces it into several large galvanized iron tanks which hold the supply and from there it is again distributed to the ice box, butter box and meat counter. Enough cold air can be generated in three hours' operation to supply the necessary cold air for all the boxes in the warmest day in summer. The present meat counter has been remodeled and 40 feet of Italian marble laid on the counter. The glass fronts on the meat counter enables the person to see the different cuts of meat. This is the first refrigerating plant installed in a food store in Kingston.

Dr. Swinburne of Albany

Dr. Swinburne of Albany, is a practicing physician of over 20 years' experience, is registered to practice in four different states and holds a certificate from the State University of New York to entitle him to practice medicine and surgery anywhere in the State of New York. The doctor does not believe in the use of strong acting medicines and opiates and he condemns the practice of many physicians in giving opiates and other dope medicines merely to produce temporary relief. Some people have had the impression that because Dr. Swinburne is opposed to the use of strong drugs, that he does not use medicines at all, and some have asked if his treatment were some rubbing or manipulating method.

It is here stated that Dr. Swinburne's treatment is entirely medical, and the doctor does not use any manipulation or rubbing in his practice. In fact the doctor has such great success with the medicines he prescribes that patients do not find it necessary to resort to any massage, dope medicines, or other means for temporary relief, and the medicines given by Dr. Swinburne will produce permanent cures, even in cases where other medicines prescribed by other doctors, or all kinds of manipulating or electric treatments have failed.

Among the many troubles being successfully treated include: Catarrhal Troubles, Stomach or Intestinal Disorders, Gall Stones, Liver or Kidney Diseases, Dropsy or Heart Affections, Shortness of Breath or Asthma, Chronic Coughs or Lung Diseases, Rheumatism or Neuritis, Paralysis, Fits, Neurasthenia or other Nerve Troubles, Eczema and blood disease, Special Weakness, Debility, Malnutrition and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

HONORS TO A POPULAR PASTOR

Clinton Avenue M. E. Church Folks Turn Out and Show Mr. Cranston What They Think of Him.

Perhaps the heartiest reception ever given a pastor in Kingston was that tendered to the Rev. George M. Cranston Monday evening at the parlors of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church when Mr. Cranston was welcomed back to Kingston for this his third term as pastor of that church. The parlors and basement of the church were crowded long before eight o'clock with members of the congregation and friends who had assembled to wish the Rev. Mr. Cranston and family another happy year at Clinton Avenue Church.

Shortly after eight o'clock Ira Britt, president of the board of trustees, called the meeting to order and announced that the hundreds of people assembled might meet and greet their pastor by marching from the Sunday school rooms to the parlors in the rear of the church. While the Clinton Avenue Church orchestra, Miss Ethel Van Aken leader, played the grand march the hundreds of people marched to the parlors where they were received by the Rev. Mr. Cranston and wife, District Superintendent Bell and wife, and the Rev. P. C. Weyant and wife of Trinity M. E. Church. For half an hour the new pastors of the churches, and the district superintendent were given several hundred hearty handshakes and greetings and a royal welcome extended them.

Following the informal reception addresses were made by a number of the local clergymen who were called upon by Mr. Britt, and a musical program was rendered.

District Superintendent Bell opened these services with a prayer which was followed by a musical selection by G. Richter Zeller, after which the quartet gave a number of very fine selections and Miss Jennie Hiltbrand gave a piano solo which was rendered in a most excellent manner.

After the first part of the musical program Superintendent Bell spoke of the success of the Clinton Avenue Church and especially of the past year in that church, which has been one of the most successful both from a spiritual and financial viewpoint. "If all churches were as harmonious as the Clinton Avenue Church I am sure that the Methodist Conference would not last one full week, but all differences would be adjusted in much less than a week," was the manner in which Mr. Bell spoke of the feeling of the Clinton Avenue Church toward its pastor, and without a doubt if all churches felt toward their pastor as this church does there would be little cause for friction and delay at the annual meeting of conference.

"Give the pastor of your church full power, don't handicap the man with your views or superstitions or tell him that he is not following the custom of the church, but let him have full power to guide and form the church," was what Mr. Bell thought was the keynote to building up a big and successful church organization. He congratulated the congregation on the return for another year of a man who had done so much for the church in the past and he was confident that the pastor would continue to do in the future what he had been doing in the past.

After a selection by the orchestra the entire congregation united in singing "America" and the Rev. Mr. Cole of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church was introduced and spoke a word of welcome.

Mr. Cole spoke of the harmony which existed in the churches at the present time. "Five years ago when I came to this city there was not the harmony existing between the various churches that there now is," he said. Mr. Cole believed in harmony between churches of the different denominations, "for we are all here for the same purpose," Mr. Cole spoke of the revival services which were recently conducted by the uptown churches and spoke of the manner in which all who took part worked shoulder to shoulder without any friction or trouble. That perfect harmony exists in the Clinton Avenue Church is evident from the manner in which Mr. Cranston was welcomed to his charge.

The next speaker was a stranger of but a few days in town, the Rev. P. C. Weyant of Trinity M. E. Church. Mr. Weyant for a time has been pastor at Delhi, from which place he came to Kingston. "I am a stranger in this city but before coming here I had heard of the Clinton Avenue Church," he said. In fact there is probably no other church in this district which is better known than this church. Mr. Weyant congratulated the people of the city upon the return of their pastor and spoke in glowing terms of the good word he had heard of the church.

The last speaker of the evening was the "new" pastor, Mr. Cranston, who spoke of the work which had been accomplished in the past and also of what he intended to do the coming year. "I have a calling list of 500, in every section of the city, from Hixonsville to Kingston Point and from the Boulevard to the extreme eastern sections of the city," he said. Mr. Cranston spoke of how he had heard the Clinton Avenue Church people spoken of as a "scrappy crowd" but since coming to the church he had found in that perfect harmony existed in half-years, to do 14,000 miles in that church and in a humorous vein forty-five days, cover thirty-four states, dip 200 miles into Mexico, thus to scare me out, so some other scale the Canadian Rockies, tour the man might secure the church, but I Pacific coast, inspect the Garden of wasn't scared," Mr. Cranston spoke of the duty of a pastor to his church and assured the congregation that he was going to give his utmost efforts to the charge where travelers. His father, Harry Joline, he had been sent, and as soon as he ceased to give that he wanted to be told to resign for it was the duty of every man to give to his church part of Daddy Joline's plan of unit all that he had. A review of the work of the past year in the Clinton Avenue Church will convince any Cuba.

HOWARD ENDORSED IN HOME COUNTY

Supreme Court Justice Wesley O. Howard of Troy was unanimously endorsed for renomination and re-election by the Rensselaer Republican County Committee Monday afternoon. That Rensselaer county will be unanimous for Judge Howard's renomination and re-election because of his eminent fitness for the position he now holds is indicated by the statement published in this morning's Albany Knickerbocker Press that he will also be recommended by the Democratic County Committee of Rensselaer county for endorsement when that committee organizes Wednesday night.

Harry A. Lewis of Petersburg was re-elected chairman of the Republican County Committee, and John Doyle of Troy was re-elected secretary.

Lawyers Appreciate Judge Howard.

After the appointment of the committees authorized by the election law, Chairman Lewis stated he believed the Republican party had now come to the question of whom to recommend as a successor to Judge Howard. He said that a great number of letters had been received by him from lawyers living both inside and outside the Third Judicial District concerning Judge Howard's successor, among them being one which he read, from the Hon. Lewis E. Carr, dean of the Albany County Bar Association, which praised Judge Howard and his work and asked that the Republican County Committee go on record in his favor.

Republican Organization Endorses Him.

P. R. Chapman said that in answer to such letters as had been received from Mr. Carr and the hundreds of other lawyers throughout the Third Judicial District, and the other districts of the State of New York, a suitable response should be made, and to that end he offered the following resolutions, which were unanimously adopted with great enthusiasm:

Whereas, the members of the bar in each of the counties of this judicial district have presented petitions to the chairman of the Republican County Committee of Rensselaer county requesting the renomination of Honorable Wesley O. Howard as justice of the supreme court and setting forth in the preamble of these petitions that Judge Howard is particularly fitted for the bench by reason of his experience, temperament, learning and fairness; and

Whereas, communications to the chairman of this committee from bar associations outside this county have also testified to the fitness of Judge Howard; and

Whereas, numerous letters addressed to the chairman of the county committee from lawyers and citizens of high standing from every section of the Third Judicial Department of the state have further indicated the popularity and fitness of Judge Howard; now, therefore be it

Resolved, that while he have no power to dictate nominations and no purpose to do so, it is nevertheless the sense of this committee that we are in full accord with the sentiment expressed in these various petitions and letters which have been addressed to us concerning the fitness and capacity of Mr. Justice Howard and we concur in the belief that he should be renominated and retained on the bench of the Supreme Court.

WAR ON NEWEST BUGS.

Farm Bureau to Give Demonstration at Ulster Park.

On Tuesday, April 18, at 9:30 o'clock, a spraying demonstration will be held at the farm of Holt N. Winfield at Ulster Park under the supervision of the Farm Bureau. If the weather is stormy, the demonstration will be held the next day, Wednesday at 9:30 o'clock.

This spraying demonstration will not be for the purpose of showing how to hold the rod while spraying, but will be devoted to the new insect pests, aphids and red bug, and will show the different stages of the development of trees when spraying should be made to control this pest. The quantity of material and the material required at various stages of growth will be shown.

Prof. Crosby, of the Department of Entomology of the College of Agriculture, will give a discussion in the orchard on these pests. Prof. Crosby probably knows more about the red bug than any other man in the state and Ulster county is fortunate in securing a man so well acquainted with this pest. Prof. Crosby has devoted his time to the subject which he will speak on and has done much work on the red bug, having written of his investigations one of the best works existing on this tree enemy.

PEACEFUL BROOK EXCITES PALTZ

Whether it Rabbits or Murmurs, it seems to have caused considerable of Both Among the Population.

A peaceful little brook in the village of New Paltz has been taxing the brains of a large proportion of the population of that place besides a number of lawyers of Kingston and New Paltz. The cause of the trouble is the petition of DeWitt C. DePuy, one of the land owners through whose property the stream runs, for the purpose of draining the land under the drainage act and the appointment of a commission to investigate the conditions to prove that they are unsanitary.

The commission, which was appointed by Judge Jenkins, and consisted of Isadore Sampson, Charles B. Wright and John F. Hallinan, reported that the stream needed to be drained, the cost to New Paltz being $878, and that town of New Paltz together with others appealed to Judge Jenkins not to confirm the report. Arguments were heard on Monday in Judge's chambers from Attorney Russell of the law firm of Morschauer and Mack of Poughkeepsie, who represented the petitioner; Amos Van Etten, attorney for the New York Central Railroad; and County Attorney John W. Eckert, representing Joseph H. Vanderlyn, attorney for the village of New Paltz, John C. Keyser, and Abram LeFevre, persons affected by the report of the commission.

The brook is in the Vineland section of the village and has been running its course as long as residents of the place can remember, originating in three springs and flowing down a grade of about seventy-five feet into the Wallkill river. With the advent of sanitary laws, etc., one of the property owners along the stream thought that the brook, speaking from the point of health efficiency, was a little below par. He complained to the town officials that the stream caused swamps on his property and asked them to drain the land and divert the stream's course so that he would not be subjected to contagious diseases. The town board evidently refused and he petitioned Jenkins to appoint a commission to investigate.

The commission reported on February 12, 1916, and they had held hearings for the purpose of taking testimony of doctors and other residents of the village to show that the stream was unsanitary. All the doctors, most of whom formerly had been health officers, gave as their opinion that the place ought to be drained, although none of them when in office had said a word about it. The first testimony was taken on July 1, 1915 and it required many hearings, "about ten," Mr. Eckert said, to complete the testimony of residents. Finally on October 22, 1915, the final hearing was had and the commission in its report said that the brook should be drained by ditches because it is necessary for the public health. The cost to the village would be $878.

In a supplemental report submitted February 24, 1916, the commissioners gave a proposed change in the course of the stream as follows: "Beginning on Tricor avenue, adjoining the lands of Ralph LeFevre, thence along the east side of said avenue in a northerly direction until it reaches a point 75 feet south of Mohonk avenue and then turns west under Tricor avenue to other lands of Ralph LeFevre, thence crossing his lands in a north-westerly direction to the south side of Mohonk avenue, thence following the south side of Mohonk avenue west to a point where said stream now runs under the said avenue through a culvert and thence following the line of present stream on to its outlet in the Wallkill river."

County Attorney Eckert said that the only two reasons for reclaiming swamp lands were either for agricultural purposes or for public health, according to the code and he went on to say that this stream has been running its way through a well defined course down a good grade ever since any of the oldest residents of the place can remember. He said that one of the citizens had judged it a 75 foot grade. Although the doctors at the hearings had said that all possible diseases could be contracted by contact with this brook, Mr. Eckert by consulting the death records of New Paltz, showed that no death was due to the stream's condition. The speaker waxed warm on his subject and said that Mr. DePuy had lived along the brook for 12 years and never before complained. Mr. Eckert called it "spite work" on the part of some of the residents and told of Mr. DePuy's constructing a bulwark just behind the point where the stream passes under the culvert of the New York Central Railroad. In this way he threw the course of the stream into one of the streets of the village and thereby saved his property from much damage at the time of freshets, according to Mr. Eckert. "While Mr. DePuy was away," Mr. Russell said, "the town officials broke down the bulwark and the stream regained its natural course."

Mr. Eckert said that the "commission went up in the air" when the New York Central offered as evidence a map of the brook showing its profile and would not allow it to be entered. If they had, "they would have voted themselves out of their jobs." He said that the doctors who had testified had been health officers but had never protested about the brook. They are "not always responsible," he said.

Mr. Van Etten testified that the railroad had had the culvert there since the road was built and that there had been a good mountain grade. He also stated that the commission would not give the civil engineer who had made the map, a hearing. Mr. Russell, on behalf of the petitioner, told of the reports of the physicians to prove that the land was unsanitary and that the stream is a menace all along its course. A motion was made by Mr. Eckert to review the findings of the commission and was opposed by Mr. Russell. The attorneys have until Saturday to submit briefs.

A Word to the Wise

An inspection of our WALL PAPER stock will enable our customers to find the designs for which they are seeking.

A scarcity of materials and dye-stuffs required for the making of paper has caused the price of Wall Paper to advance very much.

Fortunate in placing our order for a large supply before these conditions obtained, we are prepared to sell the VERY BEST WALL PAPERS at extremely low prices at the present time, but delays are dangerous when the market is so uncertain.

HIGH FALLS.

High Falls, April 11.—The Misses Helen Krom and Edith Hasbrouck, who attend Oneonta Normal, are home on their Easter vacation.

The Rev. Theodore Beekman of Rosendale was present at the Ulster County Sunday School Conference held in the Reformed Church on Saturday afternoon and evening. On account of the stormy weather there were very few present.

The High Falls public school will open on Wednesday morning after a week's vacation.

Abram Dunn has gone away to work.

Mrs. Jacob Snyder is visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. James Schoonmaker.

Mrs. Hutchins, who has been spending some time with her mother in New York city, returned home the past week.

The Rev. George Dangremont has organized a Bible class. They meet at the parsonage on Friday evenings. There are quite a number who have taken advantage of this opportunity and attend the meetings.

The Ulster County Sunday School Conference was held in the Reformed Church on Saturday afternoon and evening of the past week. The Rev. Mr. Gulick of Woodstock had charge of the services. After the devotional service there was the appointment of the committees. The Rev. Mr. Gulick then gave a most interesting talk on the work of the district. Miss Mary K. Berg of Tillson, who was to have been present was detained by illness and her place was filled by Mrs. Mrs. Breckenhoff of Poughkeepsie.

The subject of Mrs. Breckenhoff's address was "Trained Workers." She took up this subject under three heads. First, "The Need." The Sunday school teacher should be trained for their work. They should know how to adapt the lesson to the children under their instruction. They should know the child whom they taught. They should make a study of child psychology. In connection with the course of study, Mrs. Breckenhoff spoke of several text books. One which she highly recommended was Oliver's Preparation for Teaching. The first ten chapters of the book take up the Old Testament, the second ten chapters the New Testament, the next ten child psychology, and the last ten chapters deal with pedagogy. In her remarks in connection with the study of the child, Mrs. Breckenhoff made the statement: A child remembers five-tenths of what he hears, seven-tenths of what he sees, and nine-tenths of what he does.

Primary children must be given some busy work. They must have something for their hands to do. You have often heard a mother say to a child of five, "Won't you sit still for five minutes?" It is an impossible thing to ask a child at the age of their development to sit still for five minutes. They require something to keep them busy in the Sunday school class and if they are given the opportunity of doing things themselves they remember the lesson learned by this process much longer than if the same thing were taken up in a different manner.

What the child does himself makes the impression. A child remembers nine-tenths of what he does. Mrs. Breckenhoff then spoke of the classes of young people. The classes of present teachers, the community classes and told how they were conducted. Following this was roll call of classes.

The audience was then divided. Those interested in the elementary and secondary grades were addressed by Mrs. Breckenhoff, while the Rev. Mr. Gulick and the Rev. Henry D. Frost of Accord spoke to those interested in adult and home department work.

The principal topics taken up under elementary work were:

1. The elementary worker trained for her task.
2. Necessary steps in grading elementary division.

Secondary grades:

1. The advantage of class organization. The secondary worker trained for his work.

Adult classes:

1. Does organization pay?
2. The standard of service.

Home department:

1. Possibilities of home department work.
2. A standard for the home department.

After the afternoon session, a dainty luncheon was served in the basement of the church by the Sunday school teachers.

The evening session opened with devotional exercises, followed by business meeting. After the evening offering there was the roll call of schools, using state and denominational standards as basis of report. The address of the evening, "The community challenge to the Sunday school," was given by Mrs. Breckenhoff.

Owing to the very unfavorable weather, there were only a few present at both the afternoon and evening session of the conference.

Mrs. Edward Keator and son have been spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John F. McCabe of Rosendale.

George Hopper, formerly of High Falls, and his wife, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Tillson of Rosendale.

Mrs. Larry Snyder of Rosendale was present at the Ulster County Sunday School Conference held in the Reformed Church the past Saturday.

The topic of the Wednesday evening prayer meeting is "What my denomination expects from its young people." Ps. 84:12.

Mrs. Walter Devlin and children, Edna Marie and Dorothy Elizabeth, are visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Freer.

Miss Edna Freer, who has been spending a few months with Mrs. Devlin in New York city, accompanied her sister home.

They are contemplating reorganizing the primary classes of the Reformed Sunday school.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Schoonmaker have been purchasing furniture for their new home.

The recent snow storm caused bad roads but the April winds and sunshine are doing their work well.

Mrs. Martha Sholey, who has been away visiting, has returned home.

Miss Fanny Elmendorf gave a surprise party in honor of her niece Miss

Everly Elmendorf, on Saturday evening, April 1. Those invited were the Misses Elizabeth Hess, of Stony Ridge; Theda Gillespie, Isabel Krom, Marguerite Quick, Ruth Barnhart, the Misses Helen, Nellie and Edna Davenport, of Accord; the Messrs. John Hess, of Stony Ridge; Cyrus and Arthur Depuy, of Kyserike; Warry Krom and Edward DeWitt, of Allgerville; Ernest Lefevre, Kenneth Church and Jesse Barnhart. A most delightful evening was spent playing progressive pinochle. There were four prizes awarded. The first prize among the girls, which consisted of a pot of tulips, was awarded to Theda Gillespie. The first prize awarded to the boys, which was a picture, was awarded to John Hess. The trophy prizes were awarded to Warry Krom and Ruth Barnhart. Later in the evening refreshments were served, consisting of vanilla and chocolate ice cream, cake and coffee. The party did not break up until the wee small hours of the morning, and all the guests departed, vowing Miss Fanny Elmendorf and her niece royal entertainers.

By La Raconteuse.

The suit of navy serge is as popular as ever, and possibly, owing to the decided dash of the season's silhouette, it is smarter than ever. While most of these suits are developed in a fashion that features a snug waistline and flare, the exceptional model which flares from the shoulder proves quite smart, and particularly becoming and appropriate for the spring girl. Such a suit is illustrated, of navy serge with circular skirt, panel front and border of self material. The coat is a loose model with sailor collar, trimmed with gray broadcloth.

A Story For 'Leap Year'

By ELINOR MARSH

Professor Poland of — Woman's college was lecturing to his class, his subject being customs in India. He had excited considerable attention while dwelling upon the suttee, the girls showing great indignation at the immolation of a widow on her husband's funeral pyre. A hundred pens taking down the lecture scratched fiercely on as many notebooks. From the suttee he passed to the products of the country, and the pen scratching fell off so perceptibly that the professor was admonished that he was losing his hold on the interest of his class. He kept a number of slips, on each of which was written some bit of information calculated to attract the attention of young women, and, taking up one, he interpolated it into his lecture.

"Among the singular marriage customs of different people there is one in India which is very delicate."

Every pen of the hundred young ladies began to send forth a sympathetic sound.

"A father will hold his daughter for a price to be paid by the suitor before marriage. A parent having a very beautiful daughter or being able to settle on her a large dowry will sometimes put so high a price on her that such young men as desire her cannot afford to pay it. This makes a market for marriageable women. Widows may be had at a very low price."

A hum of expressions of amusement, approbation or dissatisfaction interrupted the lecturer.

"When a father finds that he has been holding his daughter too high and wishes, so to speak, to put her on the bargain counter [laughter] he does not tack a card to her on which is written 'Special,' as would be done in America if we had any such marriage custom. He adopts a much more poetic method. He marries her to a bouquet of flowers and throws her husband into a well. Since he must be drowned the bride becomes a widow. This is a notification to the young men that she may be had cheap."

Professor Poland, who was a young man of twenty-seven, paused and showed a white set of teeth under his dark mustache in a smile which was meant to be a partial unbending from his professional dignity. A ripple of amusement passed over his auditors, and he was about to return to a finish of the products of India when Belle Halliday, one of those girls who go to college to let off a surplus stock of mischief, arose to ask a question. Professor Poland paused and looked at her inquiringly.

"Am using leap year," she said. "It occurs to me that this wedding to the flowers might be used by a girl as a delicate way of proposing to the man of her choice. It would be equivalent to saying, 'I may be had for a song; buy me.'"

The class tittered. The professor looked at the ceiling, then made the following reply:

"Your method, Miss Halliday, would involve a knowledge on the part of the man proposed to of the Indian custom in question, which he would not be likely to possess."

"Oh, I didn't think of that!" And Miss Halliday sat down in pretended confusion. But if there was any confusion in the matter it was with the professor, who was at the disadvantage of being one man among many women. He made an attempt to smile, then went on with his lecture, but did not again strike anything as interesting to his class as the matter of a girl being wedded to a bunch of flowers and her husband being thrown into a well.

Professor Poland's lecture was delivered in February, and Miss Belle Halliday was graduated in the following June at the foot of her class. As has been said, she did not go to college to study, but to have a good time. She was philosophic about it. "Why should I make a grind of myself when all the rest of the class are grinds? If I spent my time studying, who would do the dirty? If I were destined to make my living as a teacher I would need to apply myself. But I'm not to teach; I'm to be married."

"Got him picked out, Belle?" asked a chum.

"Yes."

"Has he proposed?"

"No, and I don't expect him to propose. This is leap year, and I intend to do the proposing myself."

"Going to be married to a bunch of flowers and throw your husband in a well?"

"Maybe."

The chief reason underlying Miss Halliday's indisposition to make a grind of herself she did not mention. Her father was a rich man, and she was an only child. Besides what property she might expect from him, she possessed a fortune in her own right, inherited from a grandmother. Indeed, it would be difficult to find a reason why she should, like the busy bee, improve each shining hour over dead languages, mathematics or philosophy for which she would have little or no use, since the probability of her coming to want was very remote.

But Miss Halliday was bright enough to get what she wanted, and in one respect she knew very well what she wanted. She wanted Professor Poland. But Professor Poland was in receipt of an income of $1,500 a year and possibly might in the course of ten years be worth twice that to the cause of education. Miss Halliday knew very well that the modest young man would never have the assurance to propose for the hand of an heiress.

"I hope," she said to Professor Poland when they separated at commencement time, "that this will not end our acquaintance. I have always been greatly interested in your instruction and am indebted to you for having helped me through several examinations which would without your assistance have sent me home to finish my college course sitting round trying to look pretty. Mamma has directed me to invite you to spend a part of your vacation with us at our country place, and we shall look for you at an early date."

The invitation was followed up by one more specific, and in July Professor Poland found himself at Morning Glory—Belle had named the place from a flower she especially loved—a magnificent place in the center of spacious grounds and commanding a fine view of distant hills and nearby lakes. While Miss Halliday was in college she, like other students, was under his authority. It seemed to him now that the conditions were inverted. He appeared to himself nothing more than a pedagogue with so little income as to be barely able to tip the servants, while his former pupil was arrayed in "purple and fine linen" and occupying a social position to which he could never hope for an entree, and if he was granted an entree he would not be able to support it.

Miss Halliday's treatment of Professor Poland was calculated to throw him into a fever. She was not only gracious; she was as devoted to him as he would have been glad to be devoted to her were their positions reversed, lavishing on him such delicate attentions as a woman will lavish on a man she feels privileged to favor. In other words, a courtship was going on, in which the woman was doing the courting. The professor sometimes drifted, resigning himself to this delightful spell she was throwing about him, and sometimes suddenly came to a realization that he was standing on the brink of a precipice.

Now, if women were the privileged proposers they would doubtless acquit themselves far better than the men. At any rate, they are by a superior delicacy far better fitted for the purpose. To Miss Halliday what she was engaged in was as simple to her as the reconstruction of the Roman forum would have been to Professor Poland. When she was ready for his proposal she took him out into the garden and began to gather a bouquet of flowers.

"Are they for me?" asked the professor.

"For you? No. I'm going to be married."

The professor felt as if some one had knocked the life out of him.

"Who is the fortunate man?" he gasped.

"I'm not going to marry a man. I'm going to marry these flowers."

Several months had passed since Professor Poland had mentioned the Indian custom to his class, and it did not occur to him that Miss Halliday's words referred to what he had then said. However, he was not afraid of such a rival and somewhat recovered his equanimity.

"Oh!" was his sole reply.

Belle went on collecting flowers for a posy and when she had done so made a dumb show of affection for them. There was a stable on the place and a well from which to draw water, which was brought up by a pump.

Belle went to the well, lifted a trapdoor and threw her bouquet down into the opening. Then, without remark, she sauntered back to the garden.

Now, Professor Poland was not quite so stupid about the art of love as might be supposed. He attended Miss Halliday on her visit to the well, and when she led him to a vine clad recess and sat down on a rustic seat a vague connection between what she had done and the Indian custom he had embodied in his lecture found lodgment in his brain. He realized that this might be in lieu of a proposal. Surely it was not encouragement for him to propose. It was either a proposal or it was nothing. If it was a proposal it was incumbent on him to respond. If he responded and Miss Halliday's act meant nothing he would be in an unfortunate position. If she meant what he suspected and he made no response he would still be in an unfortunate position. What should he do?

His inclinations decided him.

"The honor you do me is, I assure you, fully appreciated. Since I love you and have loved you for some time it is not an absence of love that causes me to hesitate. It is the disparity of our incomes."

"That, I think, can be easily arranged to your satisfaction. I am ready to settle upon you."

"Pardon me: I cannot accept a settlement. If I marry you I shall do so with the expectation of always remaining self supporting. If I am to be a rich woman's husband you must be a poor professor's wife."

"I shall be very proud of your standing in your profession and shall do nothing to turn you away from it and your enjoyment of it."

And so it was arranged that the professor should still occupy his chair at the university. This he did for a time. Then his wife was calling on him continually for some duty in connection with her estates, and at last, finding that such duties took up the principal part of his time, he resigned his professorship and devoted his whole time to the management of a property which had by this time come to be considered a family matter.

Some Interesting Information For Boys and Girls.

BIRDS AND THE WEATHER.

Our Little Feathered Friends Not So Wise as We Give Them Credit For Being—Making the Most of Opportunity—Portrait of a Little Girl.

That birds are not such good weather prophets as they are generally believed to be is one of the assertions of Frank M. Chapman, the well known ornithologist, in an article on "Birds as Travelers" in St. Nicholas. Birds make as serious miscalculations as the rest of us, according to Mr. Chapman. "Sometimes," he says, "encouraged by an unusually mild period, birds come so far ahead of their usual time that they are trapped by the sudden return of cold weather. Then if they do not retreat they may suffer for lack of food. I have seen geese on the coast of Texas migrating northward in large numbers, urged onward by a warm wave. The next day, to my surprise, they all came flying back. But the day following that a severe 'norther' suddenly arrived. The geese had evidently encountered this storm and were driven back by it."

Make the Most of Opportunity.

Don't wait for your opportunity—make it, as Lincoln made his in the log cabin in the wilderness. Make it, as Henry Wilson made his during his evenings on a farm, when he read a thousand volumes while other boys of the neighborhood wasted their evenings. Make it, as the shepherd boy Ferguson made his when he calculated the distance of the stars with a handful of beads on a string. Make it, as George Stephenson made his when he mastered the rules of mathematics with a bit of chalk on the sides of the coal wagons in the mines. Make it, as Douglass made his when he learned to read from scraps of paper and posters. Make it, as Napoleon made his in a hundred important situations. Make it, as the deaf and blind Helen Keller has made hers. Make it, as every man must who would accomplish anything worth the effort. Golden opportunities are nothing to laziness, and the greatest advantage will make you ridiculous if you are not prepared for it.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Stars in the Sky.

Man may never know how many stars there are. The best we can do is to figure on the number that can be seen with the largest telescopes that have been invented, for you know there must be many millions of them which to us are invisible.

We have counted the stars so far as we can see them, or, rather, so far as we can photograph them. Astronomers have found that a photographic plate exposed to the stars will show more of them than can be seen with the naked eye. By this method, the "Book of Wonders" tells us, man has been able in a way to count the stars he can see. It adds up to more than a hundred million of them. Astronomers found this out by taking photographs of the heavens at night, devoting one picture to each section until the entire heavens had been covered and then counting all the stars shown in the pictures.

A Care Free Little Girl.

Quite undisturbed by the great events of the day is Miss Betty Gerard, whose portrait was snapped by a photographer at Palm Beach, Fla. Little Miss Betty has almost nothing to do but enjoy herself.

joy herself, and, judging from her happy expression, she finds that an easy and pleasant occupation.

Betty was caught among the palms, where she and a number of her little friends were at play. She is a member of a prominent New York family, and this is her first winter at the famous winter resort.

THEY SAY.

A merchant in a nearby village submits the following pointed questions:

Now that licenses are being issued to all peddlers, a question arises: Is it lawful to peddle foodstuffs, namely: Canned goods, package goods, bulk goods and other staple items usually sold in stores under the name of groceries without licenses being issued to the persons carrying on such business?

Assuming that this is lawful, unscrupulous dealers in cheap, unadvised goods in unknown localities, pack their wagons and invade the territories of honest dealers thereby interfering with their respective trades. On the other hand consumers who buy their goods get stale, unclean and unsound goods for the price they are paying to their local dealer for clean advertised goods.

In justice thereby to the honest dealer and consumer as well let all peddlers be licensed.

Every member of the Old Guard is expected to be in attendance at the state armory this evening, when Company M will tender a drill and review to the veterans. Captain B. J. Hornbeck, commandant of the Old Guard, will be the reviewing officer, and he requests every member of the Old Guard, and those contemplating joining the association to be at the armory tonight, to witness the change in the tactics employed by the guard of today, than those of years back, when they were one of the boys.

The spirited citizens of this vicinity should turn out in goodly numbers to witness the event this evening. Captain Meagher has arranged a program of unusual interest for the citizens. Martin's orchestra of eight pieces will provide music for the occasion, rendering a concert from 7:30 to 8. The doors of the armory will be opened to the public at 7 o'clock.

Souvenir program will be issued to all those who are in attendance at the armory this evening. Application blanks will also be handy for those young men, who wish to enlist in Company M. The membership committee of the Old Guard will also be busy in enlisting those eligible to join their association. It is hoped that by this demonstration the public will do their part in seeing that Company M is recruited up to peace strength of 103 men and officers, besides having a waiting list, which would muster war strength of 150 men.

We had one of those beautiful sunsets for which Kingston and the Catskills are famous, Monday evening, with all the colors and tints of the rainbow. The sun, which in December sets behind Sam's Point in the Shawangunks, in its swing to the north, now sets back of High Point, and last evening Peekamoose, High Point, Balsam, Hemlock, Table, Slide Mountain, Wittenberg and Cornell had that deep blue tint which only is seen when the air is clear from mist. The sky was brilliant in crimson, rose pink, amethyst and light green, and many strollers on Albany avenue stopped to admire the beauty of the sunset.

THE HOODOO NUMBER.

U. & D. Switch Engine Lives Up to Reputation of 13.

Monday afternoon switch engine No. 13 of the Ulster & Delaware railroad jumped the tracks while busy switching coal cars near the coal trestle downtown. The wrecker soon had her back on the track, again. Today while she was being overhauled by a hostler in the round house she ran out through the open doors and dropped into the pit of the big turntable in the yard. The wrecking crane after considerable work got her back on the track again. She was but slightly damaged. Old railroad men are now wondering if No. 13 is really an unlucky number. No one was injured in either accident.

Hard Times.

"Yes, sah; I's married," replied the applicant, "but mah wife is out of a job. Dat's why I's got to shif' foh mahself."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Medal of Honor.

A military decoration more difficult to earn, or at least far more sparingly awarded than the emblem of the Legion of Honor, the Victoria cross or the Iron cross, is the medal of honor, which is the proud possession of a few American soldiers. The highest decorations that European governments bestow for exceptional valor may all be won in the ordinary course of duty, but the wearer of our medal of honor must have distinguished himself conspicuously "for gallantry and intrepidity above his comrades—service that involved extreme jeopardy of life or the performance of extraordinarily hazardous duty."—Exchange.

The Real Thing.

"Your letters seem fervent enough, but can I trust their apparent fervor?" "You can. They have been tested in court. I got 'em out of a breach of promise suit, and the plaintiff got damages too."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Tumbling Into Marriage.

Considering how boys and girls tumble into marriage without any previous instruction as to what marriage means or any previous preparation, even in their thoughts, for its unforeseen and unconsidered responsibilities, we might well be surprised that there are so few rather than that there are so many divorces.—Dr. Lyman Abbott in Outlook.

EDWIN VAN AKEN GETS NEW TRIAL

Court of Appeals Reverses Conviction of Murder in Case of Port Ewen Man on Ground That Errors Were Committed in the Trial.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Albany, April 11.—A new trial is given Edwin Van Aken, who is accused of having strangled his wife at Port Ewen, N. Y., on October 22, 1914, by a decision handed down today by the court of appeals.

Van Aken was convicted upon circumstantial evidence and the testimony of medical experts. It was alleged that he had become intemperate and had had a lot of trouble with his wife in his efforts to get money from her, she being well-to-do.

Errors were committed upon the trial, according to the court, and the opinion written by Judge Cardozo says:

"To dismiss these errors as unsubstantial is impossible. They tended to awaken a resentment and prejudice through which the trial was made unfair. He was permitted to go as the forger of his victim's name. The charge of forgery has no basis in the evidence.

"Judgment of conviction is reversed and a new trial ordered."

Van Aken was defended by Corporation Counsel William D. Brinley of Kingston.

The Republican County Committee met at noon at the court house for the purpose of organization as required by law. Philip Elting was re-elected chairman; County Attorney John W. Eckert, secretary and County Clerk C. K. Loughran, treasurer.

The rules of last year were adopted as they stand and the chairman was authorized by a resolution introduced by Mr. Muldon to fill all vacancies now existing or occurring later in the county committee. In the town of Olive, Second District, there was no election and in the fourth district of Esopus the vote was tied.

Election of the different committees resulted as follows: Judicial Committee—First district, Surrogate Walter N. Gill and A. T. Clearwater; Second district, Joseph H. Vanderlyn and Hon. C. M. Woolsey.

Congressional District Committee—First district, John A. Snyder and Walter G. Geroldsek; Second district, Philip Schantz and the Hon. Edward Young.

Senatorial District Committee—First district, Charles Lahl and John H. Saxe; Second district, S. B. Wagenen and William W. McElhorne.

At a meeting of the assembly committee for the First district, Mrs. Caroline was elected chairman, Joel Brink, secretary; C. K. Loughran, treasurer. Second district, W. K. Shook, chairman; Roy Krum, secretary and William W. McElhorne, treasurer.

The city committee met and elected W. G. Johnston, chairman; Scott D. Hornbeck, secretary; C. K. Loughran, treasurer.

After the appointment of the committees and routine work was completed, the meeting adjourned to the dining room of the Snyvesant Hotel where dinner was served to the members.

In accepting the office of chairman of the county committee Mr. Elting stated that he had served in the present capacity for a number of years and it was his intention to give up his position and have a new man take it when it came time for another election. Mr. Elting has held the office of chairman since 1901 and under his guidance the Republican party in Ulster county has grown until at the present time the party has control of the most important offices in the county.

Ancient Assyria.

There is no "Assyria" at the present day. A large part of Syria belonged for awhile to the ancient empire of the Assyrian kings, and it is altogether probable that the name of Assyria is a derivation of Assyria. Ancient Assyria was the country between the Armenian mountains in the north and the alluvial plain of Babylonia in the south, the Taurus in the west and the mountains of Kurdistan in the east. The name also included the varying empire which included from time to time different parts of the adjacent territory. Some of the classical writers plainly include Babylonia and Mesopotamia in "Assyria." The Assyrian empire came to an end about 606 B. C., and after its fall the name of "Assyria" came to be used for the chief part of Assyria proper. In the year 115 A. D. the Roman Emperor Trajan created a Roman province of Assyria, but the attempt to restore the old name was abandoned by the Emperor Hadrian. The modern name of Syria is given both to the actual Turkish vilayet west of Palestine and to the larger region which includes the vilayet of Syria and stretches northeast into Aleppo, New York Times.

Traits of the Zulu.

It is a recognized fact, says the Southern Workman, that the Zulu tribe is one of the finest in southern Africa. The Zulu has a sturdy frame, a strong chest, wonderful digestion, magnificent teeth and fine muscles. He can stand hunger, fatigue and exposure.

While he is slow to adopt modern methods of tillage, irrigation and fertilizing, he is beginning to recognize their advantages. His hospitality, indifference to pain, sense of humor, good temper, love of children and cheerfulness are all good traits in his character. "He is a manly specimen, not a cringing coward, and in his natural state a gentleman, every bit of him."

Counting a Score.

Twenty is called a score because it represents the whole man, ten fingers and ten toes. Etymologically it means a cut or mark. In very early times, when men could not count beyond twenty, or "one man," it was usual to cut a notch in a stick and begin again, and so it went on, one man, two men, and so on. This is why sheep are still counted by the score. Now, a tally (French tally, cut or marked) means an account kept by means of a notched stick, and until the end of the eighteenth century such sticks were given as exchequer receipts, accompanied by a written document. This was the usual way of keeping accounts in the days of the middle ages. The number of drinks or men a customer had were scored against him on what was called a tally stick, and when it reached twenty, or a "whole man," he was expected to pay.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, April 11.—There was a good demand for stocks at the opening and the marked gains were made in nearly all the important issues.

The specialties moved in the same manner as the standard issues, making fractional gains on a fair amount of trading. Butte and Superior rose $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ and $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$. Crucible Steel moved up $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$, and Baldwin Locomotive $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$. Steel Common sold at \$54, a gain of $\frac{1}{4}$, and fractional upturns were made in Anaconda, American Smelting and Utah Copper. The railway issues were neglected, there being no sales in either Union Pacific or New York Central. Marine preferred fell $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$, and the common after opening $\frac{1}{4}$ higher at 21 $\frac{1}{2}$, declined to 21 $\frac{1}{4}$. Mexican Petroleum advanced $\frac{1}{4}$ to 111 $\frac{1}{4}$.

A heavy tone was noted in the late forenoon, with quiet liquidation in evidence in many of the active issues. There was a lack of demand for New Haven, which declined $\frac{1}{4}$ to 60 $\frac{1}{4}$, under small sales. Fractional losses were sustained in Union Pacific and New York Central. Marine preferred declined $\frac{1}{4}$ to 74 $\frac{1}{4}$. Industrial Alcohol from 16 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 16 $\frac{1}{4}$ and Steel Common from 54 $\frac{1}{4}$ to 54 $\frac{1}{4}$. Many of the leading industrials declined to slightly below yesterday's finals, and fractional losses were noted in many of the minor steel industrials. Money loaning at two per cent.

Crucible Steel, which sold at 65 $\frac{1}{4}$ earlier in the day, declined to 65 $\frac{1}{4}$ in the late afternoon. Trading was almost wholly professional.

The tone at the close was firmer. Baldwin Locomotive, Crucible Steel and a few other specialties dropped 1 to 2 points in the last hour and there were fractional losses in the standard issues. The selling was checked before the close and in the final dealings there were slight rallies. The railway stocks were practically at a standstill. Canadian Government 5's of 1931 were in vigorous demand, scoring a new high to 85 $\frac{1}{4}$. Governments unchanged; other bonds irregular.

A $2,000 verdict was returned by a supreme court jury in Poughkeepsie Monday against the Kaickerbocker Ice Company and in favor of Frank Shrodonas and his sister. The plaintiffs sued for damages as the result of the death of their brother, Joseph Shrodonas, who was killed by a falling hoist at an ice house near West Camp in June, 1915.

Optimism and Pessimism.

An optimist sees more women workers as a result of the big war. What does the pessimist see, more man loafers?

Abram J. Houghtaling, who was born in Kingston and went to California in 1810 at the time of the gold craze, died at his home in San Francisco, Cal., on Sunday, April 9, aged 89 years.

For twenty-seven years and a half years he was a member of the San Francisco police force, and during that time nearly all Kingstontians who have visited that city called on him and either were shown through Chinatown by him or by a police escort which he provided. As a young man he went from Kingston to New York city, where he became a member of the police force and was promoted to sergeant. At the age of twenty years he left New York for the Golden Gate and arrived there after a stormy voyage. Mining in Amador county occupied his attention for six years, and in 1833 he was elected to the California legislature from Calaveras county. He was one of the first supervisors of Amador county. In 1870 he joined the San Francisco police force and in 1898 retired with the rank of sergeant. As a fearless fire fighter, Mr. Houghtaling won fame in the early days of the county. He joined the old Tiger Engine company of San Francisco in 1858 and rendered such effective service that he was elected president of the Board of Fire Delegates for two terms. Socially he was a member of the Society of California Pioneers; Presidio Lodge, No. 344, I. O. O. F., and the Veteran Firemen's Association of San Francisco. He is survived by his wife, Mary E. Houghtaling, one daughter, Alice M., wife of Harry Morton, and one son, William S. Houghtaling. The funeral was held on Thursday, April 6, under the auspices of the Society of California Pioneers, and the interment was in Woodlawn cemetery, San Francisco. Mr. Houghtaling was a brother of the late Richard E. Houghtaling and an uncle of Edgar M. Houghtaling, agent of the American and National Express companies in this city.

Named After the Saint.

St. George is always turning up on the Danube, from St. Geroges, in Baden, which disputes with Donau-echingen the claim to possess the real source of the river, to the St. George's branch, the southernmost mouth at the delta. Giurgenro is one more of the places named after the saint. It began as San Zorzo or San Giorgio in the fourteenth century, when it was founded by the Genoese. In modern times Giurgenro has twice made history. It was the terminus of Romania's first railway, the line from Rukharest, opened in 1880, and in the Crimean war it was defended with stubborn fury by the Turks, costing the Russians 20,000 men to take it.—London Standard.

Japanese Proverbs.

"Some insects feed upon smartweed" (There is no accounting for tastes).
"If in a hurry go around" (The more haste the less speed).
"Live under your own hat" (Let well enough alone).
"The month is the front gate of misfortune" (The tongue is a fire, a world of iniquity).
"When the clouds rather let the householder look to his roof."

REBEL OAKES IS MANAGER OF GRIZZLIES

Real Boss and Near-Leader of Denver Team.

Rebel Oakes of Federal league fame, will manage J. C. McGill's Denver team in the Western league this year. It is expected that Oakes will do much to bolster up the interest in the league. Oakes was manager of the Pittsburgh team of the Feds when the peace pact was made in baseball. He was under a contract at a high salary with owner Gwinner of the Smoky City club, and as the contract had one more year to run, Gwinner stood a chance of digging up a year's salary without having services rendered.

When Doc White, who had been signed to manage the Denver team, resigned he left McGill in the lurch, as the team was about ready to report for spring training. White quit baseball because a good business opportunity was offered him. McGill began casting about for a manager, and he was almost swamped with inquiries from players and baseball men who are looking for jobs. He had Oakes in mind from the start, and immediately got into touch with Gwinner, with the result that McGill agreed to assume the Pittsburgh Feds' contract with Oakes.

Oakes jumped to the Feds from the St. Louis Cardinals. He lives in Homer, La. Last season with the Feds Oakes batted .281 in 153 games in the outfield. He had a fielding average of .978. His right name is Ennis T. Oakes.

OSCAR STANAGE IS VALUABLE

Billy Sullivan Ranks Tiger Catcher Next to Ray Schalk—Is Patient With His Pitchers.

High-grade praise has come to Oscar Stanage. Billy Sullivan regards the Californian as ranking next to Ray Schalk as the best catcher in the American league.

"I do not know but that Stanage is a more valuable man to the Tigers than Schalk would be," says Sullivan. Schalk is a high-strung fellow and he shows to best advantage with a good pitching staff. Stanage, on the other hand, is patient and more likely to get good work from an uncertain staff than Schalk, next to Eddie Foster of the Nationals, is the hit and run batter in the American league. Foster stands at the top because of his uncanny ability to shove the ball through either side of the infield when the runner from first is going down.

"If the White Sox had Foster they would have the pennant won by the first of June," says Jennings. "Personally, I believe Foster is a much better second baseman than third, and I wouldn't be surprised if Griffith thought the same way. Foster is not only a fine fielder, but a dangerous batter and a good man on the bases."

BASEBALL NOW TAME SPORT

Veteran Writer Tells of Assignment He Received in Olden Days—Editor Roasted Tebeau.

"Baseball," says a veteran writer, "isn't as strenuous, in many ways, as it was years ago. I'll never forget one assignment I drew in those lively days—that alone would suffice to show how times have changed.

"One afternoon Pat Tebeau was specially warlike—attacked the umpire about every second decision and spiced the argument with highly variegated phraseology. My managing editor was in the audience, and was much frustrated by Tebeau's style of talk. That night my chief sent for me. "Young man," said he, "you heard the language that Tebeau person used this afternoon?"

"Yes sir," I responded. "Well," thundered the managing editor, "that sort of thing must stop. Now, then, I want you to go up to Tebeau's hotel, and tell him, firmly, emphatically, that he can't use that sort of talk in this city, and that you have my orders, if he refuses to cut it, to roast him in the columns of this paper. I'll show this Tebeau that he can't bluff me!"

"Now, wasn't that a lovely little assignment to send a young reporter on?"

Uses It Himself.

"De man dat has sense enough to give good advice," said Uncle Eben, "is mostly too busy thinking 'em his own needs to pass out free instructions."

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)
New York, April 11.—The small towns produce most of diamond stars. Look over the list of the baseball luminaries today and you will find that at least 75 per cent of them come from villages and cities so small and so unimportant that their only claim to fame is the players they have produced.

This very fact constitutes one of the mysteries of the diamond game. There are twice or three times as many boys playing ball on the sand lots in the big cities as there are in all the small towns. The city boys always have the advantage of seeing the big leaguers in action and aping their style. The country boy must go it alone. Yet it is the country boy who eventually finds his way into the majors.

Why is it?
Just to show you the preponderance of small town boys in the big leagues, we picked out the leader of each of the 16 major clubs and the leading pitcher from each, as shown by the 1915 records. Here is the result:

American League Batters.
Players and Birthplace.
Cobb (Det.), Royston, Ga.
Collins (Chgo.), Millerton, N. Y.
Speaker (Boston), Hubbard City, Tex.
Melvin (Phila.), Gloucester, Mass.

Jackson (Cleve. & Chgo.), Brandon Mills, S. C.

Pfeffer (Bklyn.), Champaign, Ill.
Tesreau (N. Y.), Ironton, Mo.
Hughes (Boston), Boston, Mass.
Humphreys (Chgo.), California, Pa.

Robinson (St. L.), Floyd, Ark.
That list includes 40 names. Of the 10 men in that group, only nine came from big cities. Indianapolis, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Philadelphia, San Antonio, Woonsocket, Nashville, Atlanta and Pittsburgh each produced a major leaguer. The other 30 in the above list came from the small towns, some so obscure that they cannot be found except in the most complete U. S. census lists.

Let's go a bit farther to prove the argument. Below are the names of 50 major league players. Practically every top-notch player mentioned in the above list is in the one below. And look at the town they came from.

Austin (St. L. Amer.), Swansea, Wales.
Baker (N. Y. Amer.), Trappe, Md.
